

Citing Internet Sites

We need to know basic publishing info, just like any other academically credible source:

- Who wrote it?
- What is it titled?
- Is it part of a larger website?
- Who published it?
- When was it published?
- When did YOU find it?
- Where can I find it (what is its URL)?

Citing Internet Sites

Academically credible websites make the citation information easy to find (usually)

- You NEED to click around
- Find the homepage
- Find the “who we are” or “about us” page

The less of this information on the page, the less you want to use this for your paper
